

Smooth integration of Libelle solutions into your IT-architectures

Libelle offers a variety of implementation possibilities. An integrated concept of open interfaces supports the idea of a standardized solution fitting almost every High Availability and Business Continuity project requirements.

The examples give an overview about some typical implementations. In addition to High Availability, we offer support in additional situations such as backup integration or the creation of test databases.